CyberLock to attend DistribuTECH 2018

January 1 2018 – Corvallis, Oregon

CyberLock Inc., a key-centric access control supplier in Corvallis, Oregon, will be attending DistribuTECH in 2018. CyberLock will be one of nearly 50 exhibitors in the security industry attending the show this year.

DistribuTECH will take place at San Antonio's Henry B. Gonzalez convention center from Janurary 23rd to 25th. CyberLock will feature some of their latest products including the CyberKey Blue 2 smart key and the ValidiKey 20 vault.

CyberLock's access control solution allows power companies to secure remote locations without hardwiring. Additionally, all CyberLock cylinders and CyberKey smart keys hold a memory of every access attempt, allowing system administrators the option to view an audit trail of all access attempts.

CyberLock will be at booth #801. Visit the booth to find out how CyberLock can help power utilities meet NERC/CIP standards by the 2018 deadline!
